Information on the rights of the affected person

In accordance with Article 15 et seq. 18/2018 Coll. on the Protection of Personal Data) you have the following rights as a affected person:

- The right of access to your personal data
- The right to rectification
- Right to erasure
- Right to portability
- Right to restriction of processing
- Right to object
- Right to bring an action
- Right to withdraw consent at any time

The affected person is the individual whose personal data we process, in particular, but not exclusively, our clients. Such affected persons about whom personal data are processed in our information systems for specific defined purposes have rights which they can exercise in writing or electronically with the contact person of the operator.

Right of access to personal data

You have the right to obtain confirmation from the person concerned as to whether your personal data is being processed and access to that data. As the affected person, you have the right to be informed about: the purposes of the processing, the categories of personal data processed, the range of recipients, the duration of the processing and storage, the automated processing procedure and, where applicable, its consequences and other aspects (Article 15 of the Regulation). As an operator, we have the right to verify the identity of the person requesting access to the data, in particular in relation to online services and identifiers. At the request of the affected person, the operator will issue a confirmation as to whether his or her personal data is being processed. If so, he or she shall provide a copy of the data on request. The first copy shall be free of charge; further copies may be subject to a fee covering administrative costs. If the person requests the information electronically, it will be provided in a standard electronic format, for example by email, unless the person requests otherwise.

Right to restriction of processing

As the affected person, you may exercise your rights under Article 18 of the Regulation if you contest the accuracy of the personal data or other particulars. This may include temporarily transferring selected personal data to another processing system, preventing users from accessing that data, or temporarily stopping the processing.

Right to repair

If the operator records incorrect personal data, the affected person has the right of correction and completion of incomplete data. The operator shall carry out the correction or completion of the personal data without undue delay after the affected person has requested it.

Right to erasure

The affected person has the right to erasure ("oblivion") of personal data relating to him or her. However, this right is limited by the establishment of further preconditions. The operator shall erase the personal data without undue delay after the exercise of this right if one of the following conditions is met:

- a) the personal data are no longer necessary for the purposes for which they were collected or otherwise processed;
- b) the affected person withdraws the consent on the basis of which the processing is carried out;
- c) the affected person objects to the processing of the personal data;
- d) the personal data have been unlawfully processed;
- e) erasure is necessary for compliance with an obligation under a law, a special regulation or an international treaty to which the Slovak Republic is bound;
- f) the personal data were collected in connection with the offer of information society services to a person under the age of 16.

The affected person does not have the right to erasure of personal data if processing is necessary:

(a to exercise the right to freedom of expression and information;

(b for the performance of an obligation under a law, a special regulation or an international treaty by which the Slovak Republic is bound, or for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the operator;

(c for reasons of public interest in the field of public health;

(d for archiving purposes in the public interest, scientific or historical research or statistical purposes, where the right to erasure is likely to render impossible or seriously impede the achievement of the purposes of such processing;

(e for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

The operator shall carry out the erasure of the personal data on the basis of a request from the affected person without undue delay after it has assessed that the request is justified.

Right to bring an action

The affected person whose data is processed by the operator has the right to submit a proposal to initiate proceedings to the supervisory authority in the manner and procedure set out in the GDPR and in Slovak legislation, including Act No. 18/2018 Coll. on the Protection of Personal Data and on Amendments and Additions to Certain Acts, but without limitation to this Act. The supervisory authority in the Slovak Republic is the Office for Personal Data Protection of the Slovak Republic, with its registered office at:

Hraničná 12

820 07 Bratislava 27

Slovenská republika

Telephone contact: + 421 2 32 31 32 11

E-mail address: statny.dozor@pdp.gov.sk

Right to object

The affected person shall have the right to object at any time to processing of his or her personal data on grounds relating to his or her particular situation. He or she may object to the processing of his or her personal data on the basis of:

(a the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority, or the legitimate interest of the operator;

(b the processing of personal data for direct marketing purposes;

(c processing for scientific or historical research purposes or statistical purposes.

We will consider the objection received within a reasonable time. In this case, we may not further process the personal data unless we can demonstrate compelling legitimate interests for the processing of the personal data which override the rights or interests of the affected person or grounds for exercising a legal claim.

Right to portability of personal data

As a affected person, you have the right to request that the personal data you have provided to the operator be transferred to another operator in a commonly usable and machine-readable format. You may exercise this right provided that the personal data have been collected on the basis of your consent or on the basis of a contract and the processing is carried out by automated means.

Right to withdraw consent at any time

You have the right to withdraw your consent to the processing of personal data relating to the contact form at any time. You can do this by using the "Withdraw consent for the provision of data for contact purposes" option, by sending a withdrawal of consent to the e-mail address info@dini.sk or by expressing your will to withdraw consent via the additional contact details of the operator. However, the withdrawal of consent does not affect the lawfulness of the processing of personal data that was based on consent prior to its withdrawal.

You can exercise your rights in writing at the contact details of the operator:

Postal address: Hronská 205/11 04011 Košice

Telephone contact: +421 951 031 380

E-mail address: info@dini.sk

Purpose of the processing of personal data

The purpose of the processing of personal data is the reason for which the operator processes the personal data of affected persons in information systems on specifically identified legal grounds. Each processing of personal data is based on a specific legal basis and for a specifically identified, legitimate and explicitly stated purpose.

The personal data that we may process on the basis of filling in the contact form provided on our website www.dini.sk is used exclusively to contact you back and reply to your message or to make a non-binding quotation.

In order to protect your personal data as much as possible, we, as the Operator, have taken appropriate personnel, organisational and technical measures. Our aim is to prevent or reduce the risk of leakage, misuse, disclosure or other use of your personal data as far as possible. Should a fact occur which is likely to result in a high risk to the rights and freedoms of individuals, you, as the affected person, will be contacted without delay (Article 34 of the Regulation).

In order to preserve the principles of personal data processing set out in the Regulation as well as the law, in particular the principle of data minimisation, we only request from you as an affected person personal data that is a necessary legal or contractual requirement for the fulfilment of the purpose of processing. Please note that failure to provide these mandatory data necessary for the conclusion of a contract may result in the contractual relationship not being concluded.
